

最近，中国政府决定将其工业升级，中国现在涉足建造高速列车、远洋船舶、机器人，甚至飞机。不久前，中国获得了再印度尼西亚（Indonesia）建造一条高铁的合同；中国还与马来西亚（Malaysia）签署了为其提供高速列车的合同。这证明人们信赖中国造产品。

中国造产品越来越受欢迎。中国为此付出了代价，但这确实有助于消除贫困，同时还为世界各地的人们提供了就业机会。这是一件好事，值得称赞。下次你去商店时，可能想看一看你所购商品的出产国名。很有可能这件商品是中国造的。

Recently, the Chinese government has made its decision to update the industry. China is now setting foot in building bullet trains, ships, robots and even aeroplanes. Not long ago, China obtained a contract to build a high-speed rail in Indonesia, and another contract was signed with Malaysia to supply bullet trains. It is clearly proved that people put their confidence in products made in China.

Manufactured products from China are gaining their popularity, which comes with a price. But it does contribute to eradicating poverty and providing jobs for people all over the world at the same time. Such a good thing deserves our applause. Next time you go shopping, you might want to look at the name of the country where the product you are buying comes from. As likely as not it is made in China.
