

2016 考研英语二小作文范文

苏州新东方学校 祁迹

Dear Jack,

How have you been doing recently? I am writing here to express my heartfelt appreciation to you for your congratulations and give you some advice on translation.

Firstly, as a non-English-major, you should spend more time in enlarging your English vocabulary to lay a solid foundation for translation. Secondly, reading foreign authentic magazines and newspapers is also an effective way to expand your knowledge scope, which is essential to translation. Lastly, just as the saying goes, "Practice makes perfect". You need to persist in doing translation exercises.

Thank you again for your congratulations, and I really hope my suggestions can be helpful to you. If you still need any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Li Ming
