Once, there was a big apple tree. A little boy loved to climb to the tree top, ate the apples and played around it. With time on, the little boy grew up. He no longer played around it every day. One day, the boy came back, sad. "Come and play with me," the tree said. "I am no longer a kid." The boy replied, "I need money to buy toys." "I don't have money..., but you can pick all my apples and sell them." The boy was so excited. He picked all apples and left happily. The boy never came back after that.

One day, the boy returned. "Come and play with me," the tree said happily. "I have no time to play. We need a house for my family." "You can cut off my branches." So the boy cut all the branches off the tree and left happily. But he never came back since then.

Again, the boy returned and said. "I want to make a navigation across the sea. Can you give me a boat?" "Use my trunk(主干) to build your boat." So the boy cut the trunk to make a boat.

He went sailing and never showed up for a long time. Finally, the boy returned after he left for so many years. “Sorry, my boy. But I don’t have anything for you anymore. the only thing left is my dying roots.” the tree said with tears.

“I don’t need much now, just a place to rest. I am tired after all these years.” The boy replied.

“Good! Old tree roots is the best place to rest. Come and rest with me.” The boy sat down and the tree was glad and smiled with tears.

You may think that the boy is cold to the tree but that’s how we are treating our parents. The tree is our parents. When we were young, we loved to play with them. When we grow up, we leave them, and only come to them when we need something or when we are in trouble. Whatever we ask for, parents will give everything they have and always be there waiting for us home.

Raisins(葡萄干) in ice cream in chocolate, and in cookies...Your favorite snacks cannot be without raisins! But do you know how people get raisins from full and juicy grapes?

Dry them in the sun? Well, that may be one way. But people from Xinjiang have another way.

People there build many "blockhouses(碉堡)" out of earth near a grape garden. It is in these blockhouses that the best raisins are made.

People build many "blockhouses" on the hillside. The blockhouses are usually three meters tall and are as big in the size of a classroom.

They are quite different from the house we live in. They have lots of in the wall. Inside there are many wooden shelves.

After picking the grapes, people put them on the shelves. Because of the hot weather, hot dry wind gets through the holes in the wall and dries the grapes up. 30 to 45 days later, the fruits will turn into soft, sweet raisins.

In around the year 535, people in Xinjiang started to send raisins as gifts to the emperor. This means that about 1,500 years ago people there already knew how to make raisins!

() 69. This passage is mainly about _____.

A. how to grow grapes B. how to make raisins C. how to build blockhouses D. how to pick grapes
