 A. people live in big cities are more willing to do sports
 B. fast walking is not difficult, costs little and works well
 C. it's bad for people to walk fast for more than 10 minutes at one time
55. We can read this passage in the column(栏目) _____ of a newspaper.
 A. Mum's Kitchen B. Music Today C. Health & Sports

(B)

On Saturday morning, every boy in town was happy, except Tom Sawyer. Tom's aunt said he had to paint the fence(围栏). It was thirty yards long and three yards high! When he was working, some boys came along and made fun of him.

Ben was the first one who came happily with an apple in his hand.

"I'm going swimming," said Ben. "Do you want to come? Oh, you have to work, don't you?"

Tom got a little angry, but soon he had a wonderful idea.

"Work?" he said. "I don't think this is work. It's fun. Does a boy get a chance like this every day?"

Ben thought about this. He was watching Tom's every move and was getting more and more interested.

After a while, he said, "Tom, will you let me do some painting?"

"No way. You see, Aunt Polly wants it to be done properly. I'm the only one that can do it right."

"Oh, please, Tom," begged(恳求) Ben. "I'll be really careful. Let me try! I'll give you my apple in return."

"Well, all right, Ben," said Tom. "But you must be careful."

He gave Ben his brush with worry on his face but joy in his heart. He started to eat Ben's apple.

All day, boys passed by and wanted to paint. When Ben got tired, Billy began to paint. He gave Tom his favorite kite. Then Johnny gave him twelve marbles(玻璃球), and so on.

That afternoon, Tom got many toys, and the fence got three coats of paint. Aunt Polly was so pleased when she saw the painted fence that she gave him a large cake!

56. At first, Tom Sawyer was unhappy because _____.

- A. he had no time to play
- B. he had no apples to eat

- C. Tom was the only boy who could work carefully.

60. From the passage, we know Tom Sawyer was very _____.

- A. polite
- B. clever
- C. brave

(C)

The World Tourism Organization says that space will soon become a popular place to go on holiday—possibly by 2020. One Japanese company is planning a space holiday centre. It will look like a bicycle wheel and have a very modern hotel for 100 people and a park. It will travel round the Earth at a height of 300 km. The company hopes the centre will be ready in 2017. The company manager says he thinks that flying to the centre will probably be quicker than flying from Hong Kong to Singapore. After they arrive at the centre, tourists can take trips to the moon or go for walks in space. What about the cost? Well, the company believes that people will be happy to pay about $100, 000 for a trip. But they think that as more people want to go, the trip will become much cheaper.

An American company is also thinking of building a very modern hotel, called the Lunar Hotel, on the moon. Most of the hotel will be under the ground, so it won't become too hot or too cold. The rooms will look just like they do on Earth. The guests will eat normal food for lunch. The cooks will just push a button(按钮) to mix dried food with water to become a meal! There will be little or no dirt(尘土) and there won't be much water. So the hotel won't wash the towels and sheets(床单)—they will be thrown away.

61. The space holiday centre will look like a _____ wheel.
A. bicycle B. car C. truck
62. Tourists can _____ after they reach the space holiday centre.
A. buy cheaper things B. visit the moon C. travel under the ground
63. There might not be any _____ in the Lunar Hotel.
A. towels B. beds C. washing machines
64. Both of the Japanese and American companies will build a hotel that _____.
A. can hold 100 people B. will have a park C. will be very modern
65. The best title for the passage is “_____”.
A. Holidays in Space B. Companies in Space C. Life in Space
