It was Christmas Eve. On that day all parents prepare something nice for their kids. I was very sad because my father didn't have enough money to buy me a gift that I wanted the whole year.

My father came back and asked me to go out with him. We rode our bike with lots of wood on it. My father told me that there was a poor family living two miles down the road. He saw the little son of the family looking for wood outside and he thought they must run out of wood. On the way to the family's house, my father stopped and went into a store. Later he returned with some food and a pair of shoes in his hand. He explained that the little boy was looking for wood without shoes. I was unhappy then, because I knew clearly that we were also short of money.

We got to the poor family's house, and my father handed the wood, food and the pair of shoes to the little boy. The boy was too moved to say anything. I saw tears filled his eyes and started running down his faces.

At that moment, I felt a warmth that came from deep inside. Just then my own gift seemed not important. I got more. The boy's happiness was the best Christmas gift that year.

四、听力填空

本题你将听到一篇短文。请你根据所听内容, 完成下面的表格, 并将获取的信息填到答题卡相应的位置上。每空一词。读两遍。

Do you find it difficult to put down your mobile phone? If yes, you're not alone. These days, many people are facing the stress in the use of mobile phones. Some people even feel uncomfortable without their phones. They reach for their mobile phones as soon as they wake up in the morning.

A report from Google shows that 70 percent of people don't want to spend much time on their phones. This is why Google introduced an app called Dashboard. This new app can help users manage the time. For example, users can see how many times they've unlocked their phones, and how much time they spend on each app every day. With the information the app provides, users will be able to make some changes. Besides, users can set how long they can use each app every day. For example, they can set that they can use the phone for at most 3 hours every day. After they've used it for more than 3 hours, they won't be able to use the app until the next day.

However, if you truly want to make full use of your free time, this new app is just one way of doing that. The key would be just to control yourself on your own.
