Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay on the use of translation apps. You can start your essay with the sentence "The use of translation apps is becoming increasingly popular." You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

范文 4:

The use of translation apps is becoming increasingly popular. We can use translation apps to finish our assignments, and read instructions of foreign products. Almost everyone has at least one translation app in their mobile phones.

Some people, especially students, think translation apps are indispensable in their life, because these apps, to some extent, are lightening their workload. For example, when writing emails to foreign people, they can write Chinese version first and then use translation apps to get the English version. Translation apps, however, are also criticized by thousands of individuals, because translation apps cannot deal with some complex situations. Typing Chinese word "JuLun" (very large ship) into a translation app, we may get "a big wheel", which is a completely wrong answer. This is because Chinese word "Lun" has two meanings – ship and wheel in English.

It seems to me that translation apps are not indispensable, but should not be criticized. It should be remembered that translation apps are tools. We can use these tools but should not be controlled by them. For example, we can use translation apps to study English, but should not use these apps to write personal emails.
