

Directions: "Wealth of the mind is the only true wealth."

【范文】

As is widely accepted, "Wealth of the mind is the only true wealth." Admittedly, such a saying explicitly conveys to us a very profound enlightenment that utmost importance should be attached to knowledge accumulation which would enrich our minds effectively.

No doubt, in face of a society filled with changes, challenges, competitions, as a new generation of the country, it is essential for us to bear in mind that our new hope is not only to earn or learn for ourselves, but also to fight for the future of the country. Thus, the strategy is that only by arming ourselves with knowledge can we live a comfortable and happy life. Without knowledge, there can be no social progress and development; without knowledge, people's dream of flying to heaven cannot be realized for thousands of years. It is knowledge that promotes human civilization.

In short, no on account should we overlook the significance of knowledge accumulation. We should realize that money is temporary, while knowledge is eternal.
