What is worth doing is worth doing well

任何值得做的，就把它做好

【参考范文】

In contemporary society, our life is filled with a variety of sayings or proverbs, and the following is no exception: what is worth doing is worth doing well. Simple as the saying is, it emphasizes the significance of making an all-out effort in everything.

Definitely, no one can deny the importance of doing things at all costs. Doing things in earnest will enable us to achieve our objectives more smoothly and realize dreams more rapidly. The more attention we take, the more likely we could accumulate experience, master skills and get close to our destination. In addition, today is under our control while tomorrow is uncontrollable. If we set a goal three days of fishing and two days of drying the net, we won't succeed. For example, if you want to pass the CET-6, what you can do is to try hard and take advantage of every second in today to practice and ensure the satisfactory results.

Accordingly, on no account should we underestimate the power of striving. Furthermore, not only should us possess a great dream, but also we should do people's best to make it come true. We should remember a worthy proverb "constant dropping of water wears away a stone."

Wealth of the mind is the only true wealth

Have you ever thought of the famous proverb "wealth of the mind is the only true wealth"? The saying shows the importance of wealth of the mind rather than mere material wealth. To me, wealth of the mind is meaningful and significant in two respects.

This remark is especially true under several situations. First of all, people are more likely to communicate with people who have deep thoughts rather than those who are ignorant. Individuals can acquire a lot by chatting with thoughtful people. In addition, people in rich ideas are good at transforming negative factors into positive ones. Everyone should hold different point of views towards the world. As an illustration of half glass of water: someone reckon it' s unlucky to have just half glasses of water, whereas, others maintain that half is enough.

Judging from the examples given above, we may surely come to the conclusion that wealth in mind is more momentous than material wealth. Therefore, enriching our mind would be the best choice.

It is well known to us that the proverb: "beauty of the soul is the essential beauty" has a profound significance and value in our daily life. The proverb indicates the exact meaning of the essence of beauty. The saying can be illustrated through the examples as following.

A case in point is Audrey Hepburn. Both men and women adored her so much not only for her beautiful and elegant appearance but also because she was devoted in charity during the latter half of her life. She was a special ambassador and helped children routinely in need in Latin America and Africa. Besides Hepburn, both celebrities and ordinary people insist on doing some public welfare in various unknown ways; they are all respectable and venerable.

In a word, we can draw the conclusion that the lovely soul is the most significant quality for human beings. Do remember: beauty is only about our inside.
